

"I am mother of six children," writes Mr. C. A. Briggs, of Millwood, Douglas Co., Oregon. "I have always took three or four bottles of Golden Medical Discovery every month, and I have never suffered any to speak of; had no aches or pains; my babies were large—they all weighed more than eight pounds, and I am not a large woman. I weigh about 115 pounds. I have had Golden Medical Discovery would set me all right. I am hardly ever without your medicines. They are all the medicine one needs, if taken in time, and they are perfectly safe."

"I feel that I owe my little boy's life to Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, as he had convulsions, and everything he ate would bring them on. I commenced to give him Golden Medical Discovery when he dropped three times in a day. Now he is just as healthy as a child can be found and he grows like a weed."

MONDAY FEB. 24, 1902.

HON. P. H. McCORMACK was here from Columbus today in the interest of his candidacy for Congress. Mr. McCormack is a pleasant gentleman, a good mixer and a democrat of the old school. He is a persuasive talker and in fifteen minutes time can convince most any democrat in the district that Marion Griffith has been in Congress long enough.

For some time people in Seymour and west along the line of the Southern Indiana have desired some changes in the mail service on that road and efforts have been made to that end. Petitions are in circulation at this time and are being signed freely. One change very much desired is in the time of the arrival of the afternoon mail from the west. As it is now this mail reaches Seymour at 9:40 at night, leaving Elora at 7:00 p. m. This is too late to accommodate the people here or along the line of the road. It is desired that this mail be transferred to the train that reaches Seymour at 3:15 p. m. That would give opportunity to the business man receiving an order for goods on that mail to get it out that same evening, thus giving quick service to the man that sent the order. The time of that mail now makes a delay of just twenty-four hours in such an order. The transfer of this mail to the afternoon would be better for the people all along the line to Elora. The change can certainly be made without much difficulty.

Residence Burned.

Saturday night about 2 o'clock the residence on High street formerly owned and occupied by Clinton Leslie, was discovered on fire. The alarm was sounded and the department responded, but before the fire apparatus arrived a number of men in the neighborhood had secured the hose from the furniture factory, attached it and had a stream playing on the burning building. The house was damaged to the extent of $600 or more. By prompt and persistent work the houses adjoining were saved.

The house was owned by W. D. Bohall and he carried $700 insurance. Mr. Leslie moved out a few days ago. The cause of the fire is unknown, but there is a suspicion that it was of incendiary origin.

Murder Trial.

The case of the state against Henry Heddleson venue from Washington county was called in circuit court this morning. It took most of the forenoon to get a jury. The state began submitting evidence this afternoon. Prosecutor Hudson is assisted by S. M. Mitchell of Salem. The lawyers for the defense are Morris & Hottel, of Salem, and L. F. Branaman.

Wandered Over Town.

Sunday night the police were notified that Robt. Prewitt, who lives on Indianapolis avenue just north of the Grimes building, had gotten up out of bed and wandered away. They instituted search and followed his tracks all over the east end of town. After about three hours they found him over near the B. & O. coal elevator. He was almost frozen, being no more than half clad. He showed evidence of an unbalanced mind and was hard for the officers to handle. He was placed in jail where he will remain until a lunacy inquest can be held, which will be tomorrow.

Tuesday Club.

The Tuesday Club will meet with Mrs. O. H. Montgomery at her home on North Walnut street tomorrow afternoon.

SOME INTERESTING RELICS.

Quite a Number of Well Preserved and Interesting Documents.

Mrs. B. A. Ruddick, south of Seymour, has quite a bunch of old papers that are interesting. Among them is a letter written by her grand parents, Thomas and Mary Carr to her parents, Alexander and Elizabeth Carr, on Oct 52, 1842. It was before the day of envelopes and prepaid postage stamps. Another letter was written from the Republic of Texas, June 7, 1846 by William and Matilda Potter to Mrs. Potter's brother Alexander Carr. A Cincinnati newspaper clipping dated April 11, 1851 contains a picture and description of the Glass Palace erected at the Cincinnati Worlds Fair. It was 1848 feet long, 408 feet wide and covered eighteen acres, with its galleries it contained twenty-one acres of flow space and had eight miles of exhibition tables. The iron work for the building was all imported from Birmingham, England and the cost of the structure was $750,000. Mrs. Ruddick has three of her fathers commissions as notary public,—two issued by Salmon P. Chase, governor of Ohio in 1856 and 1859, and one by Olive P. Morton governor of Indiana in 1865. Also a commission to her father, Alexander Carr, as postmaster at Bethel, Ohio, Oct 17, 1859 issued by Joseph Holt, postmaster general, and the position was to be held "during the pleasure of the postmaster general of the United States." A copy of the By-laws of the Bethel division No 139, sons of Temperance was printed in 1847 at Cincinnati and is well preserved. A government land grant was made to William Owen Lancaster, Aug 15, 1838 signed by Martin Van Buren president. It is for the northwest quarter of the northwest quarter of section 34 townships 6 north, range 6 east and is for the land on which Mrs. Ruddick now lives.

Another paper is a bounty land grant of Missouri land to Dorcas Carr, widow of Robert Greenwell, a private in Captain Harts' company of Kentucky militia in the war of 1812. The land was bought by Deborah Carr, second wife of Alexander Carr. This grant was signed by James Buchanan, president.

Mrs. Ruddick's father's mother was Margaret Buchanan, who was probably a daughter of a cousin of President Buchanan.

Mrs. Ruddick prizes these old documents very highly and they are well preserved.

Call to the Press.

Havana, Feb. 24.—The fiscal Saturday finished his summing up in the Cuban postal fraud cases. He said the defendants were guilty under the postal code of the United States, as well as under similar laws of Cuba. He charged Estes G. Rathbone with appropriating money secured upon two duplicate $500 warrants, with unlawfully drawing a per diem allowance and with conspiracy with C. F. W. Neely and W. H. Reeves. The fiscal asked that sentence be imposed as provided in the original indictment.

NEARLY ALL OF INDIANA'S SUCCESSFUL FARMERS

Business Men and Home Folks Read The Indianapolis Journal.

IT IS THE BEST ALWAYS

Because it is a splendid representative American morning newspaper, carefully edited, clean, bright and able, a wise counselor for old or young, patriotic and national from end to end. Because it is accurate and fully reliable. Time spent reading the Journal is never wasted. The matter is so well arranged that you always know just where to find what you want. Then, too, you feel that you can believe what you read in the Journal without affidavit. Because it gives, by actual comparison, more columns of news than any other Indiana paper. It is an 8 to 12-page paper every week day; 20 to 32 on Sunday. Because it prints the most complete and accurate Market Reports. Full Associated Press Markets, with special wires to New York, Chicago, Buffalo and Louisville. Highest, lowest, opening and closing bids on Stocks and Bonds. Representatives at Union and Interstate Stockyards here at home, with special articles daily. Representative sales and Indianapolis Wagon Market. Afternoon papers are printed too early to get full market reports. Make comparisons and see. The Journal reaches you early in the morning with fresh and reliable information with which to proceed to your day's business. Because it prints an abstract of every Indiana Supreme and Appellate Court decision. Also all local court news and many important court decisions handed down in other States. Because it has the best Washington correspondence in the field. He keeps you thoroughly informed on all National Affairs, and often has special signed letters. Because it carries the full reports of the Associated Press, with cables all over the world. Because it has a special correspondent in every Indiana town of size. All important happenings are promptly chronicled. Because it has a special department of farm news. Because it prints a better sporting page than any other Indiana paper. Because it prints all those features dear to the heart of most women. It leads in foretelling changes of fashion, in society matters, cooking recipes and other subjects of interest to good housekeepers. Because it prints every class of news that any other paper circulating in Indiana prints, and much more than most of them. Because it does not use cartoons and illustrations merely as space fillers—good and poor indiscriminately—as do many papers. Good cartoons and illustrations are used judiciously. Because it does not print vile or offensive news or advertising matter. The majority of patent medicine advertisements, with their awful illustrations, are considered objectionable, and are not admitted. Because it is Republican and conservative, and confines its politics to its editorial columns. The news columns give the truthful, impartial facts. Because it costs only 10 cents a week (Sunday 5 cents extra), and puts before you fresh, clean news of the city, State and country up to the hour of going to press.

OUR MOTTO:
 Safety.

 Promptness.
 Liberality.
 Send us a
 Card or Call, and
 Our Representative
 Will explain.

The Bank Safe is an oxidized and coppered steel bank with combination lock, and is highly ornamental and convenient. All sizes of coin can be put into it.
 The Bank will be loaned to such of our depositors as desire them, or to any person who wishes to have one, and will deposit with us $1.00. Credit for this sum will be given in a pass book, and the deposit must not be withdrawn until the bank is returned in good order. In consideration of our loaning you a bank, it is understood that you will deposit your savings with us at least once a month.
 Money deposited in these Home Savings Banks can only be taken out at our office, where the keys are kept. When brought to us, the Bank is opened and the amount counted in the presence of the owner, and placed to his credit in his pass book.
 The deposit of $1.00 required before loaning the Bank, is for security only. It is entered in your pass book and will be returned to you when the Bank is returned to us in good order.

Its Advantages. You have in your home a bank always open for deposit. You can drop in small amounts you would not take to any bank, thus preventing you from spending them. Money kept loosely near at hand affords a continuous temptation to wastefulness. You cannot shake or get money out, as we hold the key; you consequently do what you ought—bring or send the Bank to us, have its contents counted and placed to your credit, where it will be a continual reminder, urging you to add more to it. Many persons waste in a lifetime enough to make them independent.
For Children. This is one of the best plans ever devised for encouraging economy and frugality in children, as money once placed in the safe cannot be taken out except at our office, and there it must be deposited. At the same time it gives a child valuable business experience, and the first lessons in economy are more easily learned if the savings are for some fixed and definite purpose.

The Greatest Money Saving Sale

Seymour ever had is still going on at the two large clothing stores known as the Famous and Mose the Boss.

This sale has doubled our expectation. Some of the stocks are slightly broken in sizes so if you can spare the money and want to save 25 to 50 per cent do not wait until it is too late to get what you want. Ask your neighbors and friends that have made purchases at these great sales whether the goods are cheap or not. All goods must be as represented and as advertised. As I said before you will find the higher and finer grade of goods at The Famous stand and the cheap and medium priced goods at the Mose the Boss stand. Come in and see for yourself whether you want to buy or not. Remember this is no fake sale.

To suffer the most excruciating pains, to lose the use of limbs, and to have the joints swollen and disfigured is the lot of the victim of rheumatism. Uric acid in the blood is the cause of rheumatism. If the kidneys are active, they remove the uric acid. That is their special work. If, on the other hand, the kidneys are deranged, there is sure to be uric acid in the blood and rheumatic pain through the body. No amount of liniment will ever cure rheumatism. It sometimes relieves, but cure can only be brought about by setting the kidneys right. The most effective kidney remedy known to man is Dr. A. W. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. They are

"Outward Acts Betray the Secret Intention."

Placing an advertisement in a well circulated newspaper is an outward act that betrays an intention.

It indicates that the advertiser is bound to be at the head of the procession, that he is up to date.

The merchant who has confidence in his goods and honestly and plainly states his case begets confidence in prospective buyers.

The place for such a statement is the advertising columns of the local newspaper. For this community these are the columns.

OLD STAGECOACHES.

THE LINE THAT RAN BETWEEN KANSAS AND CALIFORNIA.

It Cost $225 For the Through Trip, and Seats Often Brought a Big Bonus—How One Load of Passengers Amused Themselves.

The stage line between Atchison and Placerville, Cal., which ran daily coaches for about five years in 1890-95, was the finest ever known in the stagecoach business. In equipment no similar line could equal it. It was the greatest stage line on the globe, carrying passengers, mail and express.

In 1894-95 it cost more for meals between Atchison and Denver than the railroad fare now costs, with meals added. The run from Atchison to Denver is now made in something like fifteen hours as against six days in the stagecoach days. At one time the fare from Atchison to Denver was $175; the railroad fare at present is $15. The quickest time ever made by stage between Atchison and Denver was four and a half days. Ben Holladay, owner of the line, traveled by special coaches from Placerville, Cal., to Atchison, 2,000 miles, in twelve days and two hours, beating the regular daily schedule five days. This feat cost Holladay $20,000, but it was a great advertisement for his line. The stages, when crowded, carried fifteen persons, besides great quantities of mail and express.

One of the coaches used on the Atchison-Placerville line is now in the Smithsonian Institution at Washington. After leaving Atchison it was operated on the Deadwood line and was several times captured by Indians and outlaws. Once when captured by outlaws it carried $60,000 in gold. In this attack three guards were killed. Buffalo Bill heard that the old coach had been abandoned and went after it, using it for years in his wild west show. In London it carried the Prince of Wales, and all the nobles of Europe examined it with interest. On the Fourth of July, 1895, this famous old coach was exhibited with the wild west show at Concord, N. H., where it was made. The owners and employees of the stagecoach factory gave the historic old stage a great deal of attention, and in the parade it bore this sign: "1893—Home Again—1895."

Including Atchison and Placerville, there were 153 stations on the line, the longest in existence (1,913 miles). The fare was $225, or about 12 cents a mile.

The stations were from ten to fourteen miles apart. Some days $2,000 was taken in at the stage office in Atchison for fares alone. Each passenger was allowed twenty-five pounds of baggage; each pound of excess cost $1, which was the price for carrying express. The fare to Denver during the war was $175, or 27 cents a mile per passenger. The stages were nearly always crowded, and passengers were often compelled to wait several days at Atchison before they could be accommodated.

A minister once refused to travel on Sunday and abandoned his place. He did not get a chance to go until the following Sunday, and this time he concluded that, under certain circumstances, traveling on Sunday was excusable. Sometimes passengers booked for a certain day sold out for a bonus of from $20 to $50 and waited for a later stage.

The quickest route between New York and San Francisco at that time was by way of Atchison. The western terminus of the line was changed from St. Joseph to Atchison on completion of the Hannibal and St. Joseph road to this point, as Atchison was eight miles nearer Placerville than St. Joseph. The stage line ran a little north of west from Atchison, crossing the Big Blue at Marysville, 100 miles west; thence continuing in a northwesterly course up the north side of the Little Blue and over the divide into the Platte valley; thence by way of Fort Kearney, Plum Creek and Julesburg to Denver. The road between Atchison and Denver was in the form of a crescent. O'Fallon's Bluff was 100 miles north of Atchison and Denver. The easiest part of the line was between Atchison and Fort Kearney. The schedule time of the stages was four and a half miles an hour, night and day, including stops. Occasionally the drivers would make fifteen miles an hour, and the passengers thought it very fast. The express messengers received $62.50 a month, with free meals, and were compelled to ride beside the driver six days and nights without rest, except as they could sleep while the stage was in motion. They received a lay over of nine days every three weeks. On going to bed after a trip they frequently slept twenty-four hours without moving. Drivers received from $40 to $75 a month and board. On the main line there were 2,750 horses and mules and 100 coaches. The annual cost of operating the line was $2,425,000.

The passengers were nearly all men, and they had a hard time amusing themselves. A gay party of eight once started from Atchison, and they sang for two days and nights, using rhymed words to old church tunes. Finally one man proposed a collection. With the money thus raised they bought a jug of whisky at a station. Then there were a spree and quarreling and poker playing. One man said he had been robbed by one of the players, and he insisted so strongly on a fight that the stage was stopped and a ring formed. The two drunken men rushed at each other, bumped each other down and could not get up. The other men helped the fighters to their feet, and the harmless battle was renewed. Finally the driver would wait no longer, and the stage went on, with the passengers quarreling on the inside. At last they engaged in a general fight and then went off to a drunken sleep.—Atchison Globe.

LIVING IN LONDON.

It is Not a Good Place for a Man of Small Income.

An American who in the classical language of his country is at present "located" in London wants to know whether any city in the world is quite so niggardly as our town. He has been going the round of the London restaurants and has encountered in the management of them a spirit which distresses him. "There is, to begin with," he says, "a charge of from two pence to sixpence for guarding your hat and coat in the cloakroom, and a tip in addition is expected. You want to wash your hands—another twopenny or another sixpence, and another tip. You take up the menu, and behold, there is an intimation that a charge of three pence each person will be made under the guise of 'table money.' The charge varies according to the nature of the place, perhaps the average. At a great many restaurants it is 1 shilling and 6d. The only difference is that in the lower priced restaurants it is called 'table money' and in the higher priced ones placed under the captivating heading of 'couvert.' To my mind, an entrance fee frankly demanded at the door would be much less offensive than to find yourself asked at the end of a dinner to pay for the trouble and expense of cleaning up the cutlery you have used."

His conclusion of the whole matter is that "London lives by imposing a fixed tariff on the accessories that in every other city I have ever been to are thrown in gratis," and he thinks that being a gentleman is one of the most expensive professions an Englishman can have. He declares it to be an utter delusion that London is a cheap place to live in. "For the poor man," he says, "the man whose income is less than $800 a year, there is no city where less can be had in the way of comforts and even the necessities of life. In New York it is only the luxuries that cost. The expenses of everyday living may be as great or as small as one cares to make them. New York, in fact, is laid out for the poor man. From the transportation system to the price of such fundamental charges on the household treasury as coal, ice, fuel, meat, bread, milk and fruit, almost everything conspires to bring him in a good return for a very small outlay. All these things are cheaper in New York than in London."—London Chronicle.

Bills in Congress.

The words "has introduced a bill in congress," applied to a senator or representative, usually sound much larger than their ordinary meaning warrants. In order properly to estimate the value of the introduction of a bill one must remember that of 12,000 or 15,000 measures introduced a few hundred only are passed. As for proposed amendments to the constitution, the infant mortality among them is appalling. Each new congress sees a score or more of proposals for a "sixteenth amendment to the constitution." We shall doubtless some time have such a thing, yet three amendments, all of which were consequences of a great civil war, represent the only changes made in the constitution since the presidency of Thomas Jefferson.—Youth's Companion.

Houses and Superstitions.

"Real estate men are gradually forgetting most of the old time superstitions which used to cause us much trouble," said a dealer the other day. "The number of houses which cannot be rented or sold on account of being haunted or because some terrible crime was committed on the premises is rapidly decreasing. We run across only a few people who balk at living in house No. 13. Even elderly men who have made big fortunes are beginning to believe that there is nothing in the old saying that the aged rich man builds a mansion to die in."—New York Tribune.

The Whip Tree.

In the island of Jamaica grows a tree, with the botanic name Daphne lagetta, from the branches of which native workmen make peculiarly strong and excellent whips, which have the handle and lash all of a piece. The handle consists of a part of the stem retaining the bark. For the lash the stem is deprived of bark and then split into strips, which are woven together in a flexible cord six or seven feet in length. The proper taper is afforded by detaching more and more of the strips as the end of the lash is approached.

A LESSON IN CHESS.

Why Willie's Papa Ended It Almost Before It Was Begun.

Paterfamilias, with a laudable desire to keep Willie at home at night, offered to teach him to play chess. The boy was delighted, and the game began. "Put the little ones, pawns, all along the front and the big ones behind, as I show you."

"I think that is cowardly. The big ones ought to be in front. Ma says—"

"Oh, but that is the rule. Now, see—no; put that rook in the corner."

"Rook! What's a rook?"

"It is a kind of bird."

"Well, that ain't a bird. It looks like a castle."

"Call it a castle, then—and put the knight next!"

"Why is that called a knight? It looks like a horse's head."

"And then the bishop," went on paterfamilias, ignoring the question: "So, and then—"

"Why is the bishop's head split in two, pop?"

"Oh, that is his hat—a cardinal's hat."

"But I thought he was a bishop!"

"A cardinal is also a bishop. Now, don't talk so much, Willie. Then you put the king and queen—"

"The queen is bigger than the king, pop!"

"Well, so she is. Who said she wasn't?" said paterfamilias, with a trace of impatience in his tone. "And then another bishop, so?"

"Why are there two bishops, pop?"

"Because the rules say so. Now, I shall move first."

"What, after all that trouble, are you going to move them again?"

"Say, Willie, I believe my head is aching. I shall show you the rest some other time," said paterfamilias as he swept the men into the box.—New York Times.

How to Teach a Pet to Ride a Ball.

Many readers have doubtless seen bears standing on a rolling ball and maintaining their balance perfectly while rolling it about the arena. I have a bear who delights to do the trick. He can scarcely wait for his time to come to perform. He was taught, as they are all taught, by joggling his pedestal while he tried to keep from being jostled off. Gradually the pedestal was substituted for a ball with many flat places on it, and this was followed by a perfect sphere. He has been performing two years now, and I have never known him to slip and fall off.—Frank Leslie's Popular Monthly.
